

INVITATION

to international scientific conference

“ Contemporary Issues of International Environmental Law”

We are pleased to invite you to the international scientific conference “Contemporary Issues of International Environmental Law” organised by the Comenius University Bratislava, Faculty of Law, Department of International Law and International Relations.

Conference date: 30th May 2025 (Friday)

Venue: Comenius University Bratislava, Faculty of Law. With the possibility of online participation via MS Teams.

Language: English

Deadline for Registration: 30th April 2025

Deadline for submitting the contribution: 31st August 2025

Conference fee is not required.

The organising committee reserves the right to decline registrations that do not align with the conference scope. Welcomed areas of contributions are namely:

- International Environmental Law Frameworks
- Role of International Organizations in Environmental Law
- Customary International Law and Environmental Norms
- Transboundary Environmental Harm and State Responsibility
- Environmental protection and Ius in Bello
- Environmental Crimes under International Law
- Human Rights and Environmental Protection
- Climate Change Law in International Legal Frameworks
- Transboundary Environmental Damage and Private International Law
- International Trade and Environmental Protection

Publication output: Abstracts will be published in collection of abstracts. Conference participants will be invited to publish their research in a peer-reviewed collective (edited) monograph.

Registration: <https://forms.office.com/e/Yspv6W4oJa>

The conference is organised within framework, and supported by, the VEGA project no. 1/0713/23.

Head of the Organising Committee:

doc. Mgr. Liudmyla Golovko, PhD. – liudmyla.golovko@uniba.sk

Contact Person:

JUDr. Lukáš Mareček, PhD. – lukas.marecek@uniba.sk